

drove toward the home of James L. Smith, the woman's father.

Besides Sheriff Garrett, Sheriff Deth B. Orndorff of El Paso, Charles Cookley, attorney of Ardmore, W. P. McLean, Jr., attorney of Fort Worth, Texas; Oscar Harper, American vice consul here, and Ben F. Parsons, Miss Smith's uncle, accompanied her back to the American side.

Back to Ardmore.

The surrender of Miss Smith ends a search which led through the Oklahoma and Texas oil fields into Mexico, and which began November 22, when the prosecuting attorney at Ardmore obtained warrants charging her with the shooting of Hamon and with a statutory offense.

Hamon was shot in his hotel at Ardmore Sunday, November 22. He walked to the hospital, where he said a gun which he had been cleaning was accidentally discharged. He died November 28.

Back to Ardmore.

Sheriff Garrett announced he would start with Miss Smith on morning. The sheriff made the following statement to the Associated Press regarding Miss Smith's plans for the future:

"I want the whole world to know my story," she told the correspondent of the Associated Press, "but could not give out any connected interview tonight. All I can say is that I want to get back as soon as I can."

A later attempt to get a statement developed the information that Miss Smith was ill and that a physician would be summoned.

It was learned she had been advised by her attorneys not to make a statement for the present.

Seek Speedy Trial.

W. P. McLean, Jr., of McLean, Scott & McLean, Fort Worth attorneys, and Charles A. Cookley, an attorney of Ardmore, said a speedy trial would be asked. They said they were at present unable to say what the defense would be.

"We are certain, however, that Clara Smith will be acquitted by a jury of her peers," Mr. Cookley said. "We have no doubt that her innocence of the crime of murder will be proved beyond doubt."

The statement was made after a two-hour conference at the home of Miss Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Smith.

After the conference, during which it is understood details of the surrender were arranged, Sheriff Orndorff admitted press representatives who were informed by Miss Smith that she was unable to give out an interview.

ALABAMA SOLDIER AMBUSH VICTIM

Private James Morris, of Tuscaloosa, Is Shot From Ambush by Unknown Parties.

Jasper, Ala., December 22.—Private James Morris, Company M, Tuscaloosa, was shot from ambush and killed last night at Nauvoo, in Walker county, after the soldier had killed a coal miner by the name of Northcut at Nauvoo, who had been creating a disturbance.

Northcut resisted arrest and attempted to kill the trooper, according to reports, whereupon Morris shot and killed him.

Following the shooting of Northcut, Morris sent another soldier for assistance in caring for the body. Morris remained on guard. While in this position, unknown parties slipped up on the waiting soldier, shot him to death and made their escape.

Military headquarters in Birmingham were immediately notified of the tragedy. The district in which the Nauvoo mines are located is in command of Colonel Dallas Smith, with headquarters at Jasper. Strong reinforcements were rushed to the district, which is 18 miles north of Jasper.

HOLDUP EVERY HOUR REPORTED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, December 22.—Chicago has just passed one of the most lawless 48 hours of its history.

A complete list of holdups, robberies and other crimes reveals that there has been a bandit raid in some part of the city every hour since Monday. They range from general assaults by organized gangs of thieves to minor holdups by desperate unemployed.

Police, ordered by Chief Fitzmorris to make a report on every destitute family in their district so that every poverty-stricken person in the city would be sure of a Christmas dinner, had to abandon this work to assist in a general raid on criminals.

Judge Landis added to the war that is being waged on crime by issuing injunctions against 31 additional saloons, prohibiting them from selling liquor in violation of the Volstead act. By this action Judge Landis is sentencing all saloon men who violate his injunctions to the penitentiary for contempt of court. Several have been sentenced on this score.

OPENING OF GEORGIA FOREST TRAILS URGED

By Secretary of State Mc-Lendon, Who Congratulates State Press for Aid Given.

Expressing his appreciation of the recent full page story on the Nantahala and Cherokee government reservations appearing in The Atlanta Constitution, and urging the entire state press to aid in the movement to obtain federal funds to construct a system of highways and trails through this region, the following letter has been received from Secretary of State Guyt. Mc-Lendon:

The Constitution is rendering a splendid service to the people by calling wide attention to the Nantahala and Cherokee national parks in northeast Georgia, and in urging the immediate construction of roads and trails by the United States government within these national parks, which roads and trails will connect with the highway system being constructed by the state, counties and federal government. Georgia has no greater asset than this wonderful region of health, once these parks are made accessible by highways, roads and trails which will reveal the marvelous scenic beauty of these Appalachian mountains, streams and valleys.

What would be more glorious than for a man to take his automobile and, with his wife and children, go into this mountain section for a month's outing in midsummer? Fishing in these limpid streams, climbing these lofty mountains and studying the legends of the Cherokee, whether sick or well, and would make the head of the family feel more like a responsible member of society. Summer after summer, this region could be visited with great profit.

The objects of interest are very many and the Indian traditions that linger in the mountains are sweet and wholesome. In Union county is what Charles C. Jones in his "Antiquities of the Southern Indians" calls the enchanted mountain. He says, on this mountain, "cut in pliocene rock, are the tracks of men, women, children, deer, bears, horses, turkeys, and terrapins, and the outlines of a snake, of two deer and of a human hand. These sculptures—so far as they have been ascertained and counted—number 136. The most extravagant among them is that known as the footprint of the 'Great Warrior.' It measures eighteen inches in length, and has six toes. The other human tracks and those of the animals are delineated with commendable fidelity. These impressions are artificial, and were scraped or chiseled out of the rock apparently with the aid of cutting implements of flint. The accuracy and skill displayed in the construction of some of them challenge admiration, while others are crudely made. Most of them present the appearance of the natural tread of the animal in plastic clay. Twenty-six of these sculptures represent impressions of human feet—varying in length from four to seven inches—all of them bare, save one, which was covered with a moccasin."

This so-called enchanted mountain is, perhaps, Blue Rock mountain, 3,240 feet, near Track Rock gap, on the public road between Young Harris and Dalton.

In bulletin No. 2 of the geological survey of Georgia of 1904, and on page 14, is given a drawing representing these figures. Stephens says that the Indian traditions respecting these impressions vary. He says: "A tradition among the people of the world was delivered by water, and man and all animated beings were destroyed, except one family, together with various animals necessary to repopulate the earth—that the great canoe once rested on this spot—and here the whole troop of sailors was disembarked, leaving the impressions as they passed over the rock, which, being softened by reason of its submergence, kindly received and retained them. Others believe that a very singularly correct local place here, at a very remote period, between the Crocks and Cherokees, and that these images of burroughs were made to commemorate that event."

The tradition that the print of the big foot on Track Rock mountain represented an imprint of the "Great Warrior" reminds us of the tradition in Oregon. The Oregonians believe that when Adam and Eve made their second start in life they selected the island of Oregon as their home. To prove this they cite the fact that the narrow strip of water dividing the mainland of India from Ceylon is called Adam's bridge, and the further fact that the highest mountain in Ceylon is called Adam's peak.

To the Mohammedans the top of Adam's peak is sacred ground because they believe that Adam once stood on that very spot; to the Catholics it is sacred ground because they believe that St. Thomas once visited that spot; to the Hindus it is sacred ground because they believe that Shiva stood on Adam's peak when he stirred the seas with his trident, while to the Buddhists it is sacred ground because they believe that Buddha landed on top of this mountain from a storm cloud, leaving an imprint of his foot, and over this they have erected a temple.

These mountains regions are really Georgia's wonderland, and it is to be hoped that The Constitution and all of the Georgia press, will insist upon the opening up of these beautiful regions.

Dr. Joseph de Stephano recently has advanced the theory that the use of salt may be the cause of cancer, and he quotes some instances that seem to indicate that such is the case. Some other physicians, however, take issue with him and the statement is made that in Italy, where salt is eaten in great quantities, there is very little cancer.

Dr. Joseph de Stephano recently has advanced the theory that the use of salt may be the cause of cancer, and he quotes some instances that seem to indicate that such is the case. Some other physicians, however, take issue with him and the statement is made that in Italy, where salt is eaten in great quantities, there is very little cancer.

physical, mental, and I might say, spiritual condition than the Christmas of 1919. The burden of office having been shifted, and the responsibility of a world peace and a universal program of future armament having been placed upon the shoulders of another by the electorate of America, the president, though ill and perhaps forever an invalid—a supreme sacrifice made to the cause of international democracy—reaches this Yule season with a new step, a new smile and a stronger and more attractive personality than at any time since his illness began in 1919.

White House Christmas. Talking about Mr. Wilson, the white house already three days before Christmas, has taken on the Yuletide spirit. Wreaths, evergreens and poinsettias were suspended today from the windows and a general holiday appearance permeated the whole grounds.

The Harding Cabinet. As has been said in these dispatches the whole attention of the cabinet is directed at this time to provide a strong and satisfactory cabinet. He finds that in his Wilsonian cabinet, the cabinet members, who are particularly close to him, are pointing out that in cabinet appointments state lines and party lines do not cut any particular figure, especially if measured by the Wilson cabinet.

GERMAN REPARATIONS AGREEMENT IN SIGHT

Delegates to Second Congress Adjourn, After Valuable Conference.

Brussels, December 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—At the conclusion of the first phase of the second financial congress to discuss German reparations, the delegates apparently have a good idea of Germany's ability to pay and of the assistance the allies must give to Germany to meet their demands. Informal discussions between the delegates will continue until the congress meets again on January 19.

Germany Satisfied. The Germans seem satisfied that the allies will act favorably with respect to the assistance required by Germany. They took with them the allied suggestions regarding reforms, such as decreasing the budget, reduction of the number of government employees, increase in direct taxes and other measures to put Germany on a sound financial basis.

May Modify Treaty. All the delegates voiced their confidence that the January session will prepare the case for a speedy decision by the Geneva meeting of representatives of the German and allied governments respecting the possibility of modifying the treaty of Versailles in order to enable Germany to pay the minimum reparations acceptable to the allies. According to the original program, after the Geneva meeting, which succeeds the second session of the financial experts of Brussels, and after the reparations commission has fixed the total of the reparations due, the allied premiers will meet and decide whether the reports of the different conferences are acceptable and also what guarantees are required for fulfillment.

of the modified understanding and the penalties for default. The good relations between the German and allied delegates during the progress of the work of the first session has developed a feeling of confidence that the second session will establish a basis for a solution of the questions so that the subsequent conferences on the reparations program will only have to deal with any intervening political developments.

GEORGIA REAL ESTATE BOARD BEING PLANNED

Will Be Formed at Meeting Here on January Tenth.

An important conference of all real estate and loan men in Georgia has been called by the Atlanta Real Estate board to meet in this city January 10 for the purpose of organizing a state realty association, according to announcement Wednesday night by Ward Wight, secretary of the organization.

Real estate men of Macon, Savannah and several other cities have approved the plan to form a state real estate association, Mr. Wight said, and the number of letters received in response to invitations to meet here in January indicates there will be a large attendance. "With such an association," said Mr. Wight, "the real estate profession can be greatly benefited, while valuable co-operation can be given the 'Advertise Georgia' campaign, which starts at an early date. The response to this advertising can be handled to a great degree by the proposed association."

BUESSE'S SLAYER IS TO BE GIVEN HEARING FRIDAY

C. G. Miller, street car motorman who, Friday evening, December 17, mortally wounded F. S. Buessse, taxicab driver, in an altercation at Houston and Courtland streets, will be given a preliminary hearing at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, according to an announcement Wednesday by Recorder Johnson. The trouble began, it is stated, on Hogston street as a result of Buessse's automobile being struck by Miller's car. Miller alighted, it is stated, to secure the number of Buessse's license; words arose, and the shooting followed. Buessse died some days after reaching the hospital. Miller is held without bond at police headquarters.

COAL BIDS REJECTED BY SHIPPING BOARD

Prices Asked for Bunker
Coal Too High, Says
Board.

Washington, December 22.—All bids received for furnishing a year's supply of bunker coal for American merchant ships at Atlantic and Gulf ports have been rejected, the shipping board announced today. The bids, which were opened December 10, offered the board coal at from about $7 a ton to about $11.50. Officials said these prices were too high in view of present market conditions. New proposals were issued today by the board inviting bids on approximately 2,000,000 tons of bunker coal for delivery at Atlantic coast ports for a period of one year. They will be opened January 14.

FORDNEY EMERGENCY TARIFF BILL PASSED

our suits of clothes cost 100 per cent more.

Representative Garrett, democrat, Tennessee, said he saw "in this bill a determined effort to divide the democratic party, to make members of that party turn their backs on every principle of taxation for which the party has stood in its whole history."

"I cannot believe the republican leaders seriously hope to get this bill passed," he added. "I am convinced it is a fine piece of political strategy."

Warns of Retaliation.

In his attempts at amendment Mr. Rainey sought to show that the bill for the most part carried higher rates than the Payne-Aldrich tariff. He also warned of retaliatory tariffs and embargoes by other nations.

In this connection an amendment by Representative Olney, democrat,

Massachusetts, to admit wool in transit from Australia and South America at the time of passage of the measure at prevailing rates of duty was voted down.

Representative Walsh, republican, of Massachusetts, opposing the rate of 7 cents a pound on cotton manufactures, said the cotton industries of New England were at a standstill now and predicted that an additional duty would result in further unemployment through the abandonment of plans to reopen mills.

Senators Present.

During the day a number of senators entered the house chamber and their presence led to reports that they were prepared to talk the bill to death in the senate. Many republicans said tonight they were almost convinced that the bill would not be passed in the senate.

Mr. Fordney said in the course of debate, however, that he hoped to see congress at the extra session substitute for this bill a relief measure which would smother in effect until a scientific tariff schedule could be worked out.

"I expect," he continued, "to see congress re-enact either the Dingley or the Payne-Aldrich schedules."

Agricultural interests from the southern states clamored to be included in the Fordney emergency tariff proposal, and which were left out of the house measure.

Senator Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, who has announced his intention of fighting the measure, watched the debate on the bill today in the house.

Tobacco Growers.

Tobacco growers, finding themselves left out of the measure, have been sending telegrams to senators asking that they be included.

Sugar producers of Louisiana, concerned over their situation, which they claim is serious, due to the lower price of sugar, want to be included also.

Senator Randall, democrat, of Louisiana, announced today that he would offer an amendment including sugar, cotton products and rice.

Senator Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, who has announced his intention of fighting the measure, watched the debate on the bill today in the house.

COAL ASSOCIATION
DRAFTED ORDERS

free mines from their liability to furnish coal they had contracted to deliver," Senator Kenyon continued.

"Only in so far as the release was in the public interest and necessary to get supplies to keep people in the northwest and New England from freezing this winter," Mr. Morrow replied. He added that the contract breaking allowed the coal to move to the Great Lakes during the summer.

Senator Kenyon developed that the national association had "agreed to go into the courts and defend the measure" in case any operator brought any proceedings against it, that a number of the association members had dissented from the policy and that a Colorado local association withdrew as a body because of it.

Explains Payments.

The payments to the geological survey for getting out coal production figures, Mr. Morrow said, altered the method of a practice started during the war, for which congress later reinstated appropriations. It cost the association $6,000 up until last July and he said that furnishing the money had not allowed the association to control the compilation. Senator Kenyon challenged this and produced several letters passing through association channels concerning the weekly statements, as to how compilations should be arranged and for what purpose the figures could be used.

A mass of material was put into the record by Senators Kenyon and Morrow, republican, New Jersey, reading from the coal association's minutes books and records. Several letters from President W. H. C. to operators, warned the latter "that we shall not be able to prevent the appointment of a fuel administrator if high prices continue."

"Unless the operators do something to prevent this," one of the letters continued, "congress will pass a regulation measure, and the action will be so popular nothing can stop it."

Dealers "Selling" Coal.

Mr. Wentz, in taking the stand, sharply protested that he had "sold" any coal to the government "excepting that his contract showed he purchased for it."

As president of the Stoneham Coal and Coke company of Virginia, he said, he supervised production of two million tons of coal a year, all of which had been sold at average prices of $3.20 and $3.57 a ton during the present year.

"Every bit of this was contracted," he said. "I had no free coal and I did not sell to the government."

Senator Calder read a statement showing that Mr. Wentz's wholesale agency had delivered 83,000 tons of coal to the war department at New York on September 29, for $11.20 a ton.

"That seems to me a tremendous sum," the senator commented. "For coal sold in such large quantities, when the sheets of your mining companies show it was being sold for $3.87 a ton during the same year."

Says Not High.

"It isn't high," Mr. Wentz countered. "When an agent of the war department ordered quantities of coal, I can't find any more than the department had to pay the prices prevailing then."

"I didn't," Mr. Wentz replied. "Yet you gentlemen are opposing regulation. I can't find anybody who agrees with you," Chairman Calder concluded.

Senator Edge, Mr. Wentz expressed the opinion that the coal purchased by the war department last summer would cost $4 a ton today.

"Do you know of any government official who profited during the period of scarcity?" Chairman Calder asked.

"I have only heard of that as you have," Mr. Wentz replied.

George H. Cushing, managing director of the American Wholesale Coal association, who gave the committee Monday the name of one former official, whom he said had profited, took the stand for a moment today.

He said he had not charged "coal men with conspiring to keep about a shortage of coal." The name furnished by Mr. Cushing yesterday has not been divulged by the committee.

Chairman Calder said tonight that the commission might hold a session tomorrow, but the date was determined by a conference of members.

DARKNESS FAILS TO SHAKE OPINION OF WEATHER MAN

Even darkness at 10:30 Wednesday morning so thick that automobiles operated with headlights, has not yet swayed C. F. von Herrmann, the city's official weather forecaster, from his original determination to provide Atlanta with a cold and clear Christmas. He promises only moderate fair weather for Thursday, however.

Friday, said Mr. von Herrmann, will be cold and clear, with the added zest of a high wind to scatter things in the 25-degree temperature expected. The same sort of a day will rack itself up Saturday.

All sorts of conjectures were advanced Wednesday morning when a pre-dawn darkness settled over the city and caused all lights to be lit. Ideas varied from the moderate opinion that a total eclipse had slipped up on the world, to wild consternation among certain citizens of color, because they feared the approach of the end of things.

Mr. von Herrmann, however, sat in his office and assured scores of anxious inquirers that the darkness was a due to nothing more than an unusually heavy cloud between us and the sun aided in its work by Atlanta smoke.

British Government to Punish Troops for Acts of Reprisal.

London, December 22.—(United News).—The British government is considering extending the proclamation of martial law to all Ireland with an accompanying declaration warning all forces that acts of reprisal will be punished as severely as acts of provocative violence by rebels.

Announcement to this effect was made in the house of commons by Sir Hamar Greenwood, while reports were being received of dire threats against citizens of County Kerry in reprisal for the disappearance of three British officers.

On public walls in County Kerry warnings have appeared that unless the missing officers are returned to the commands unharmed certain buildings, specified in a long list, are to be destroyed and many individuals named in another list, are to be shot.

Among the scheduled victims are all members of the staffs of all Kerry papers. The reprisals will be taken at the rate of 50-for-one the warning states.

The Dublin city hall and all other Dublin municipal buildings have been occupied by British troops, in conformity with a recent announcement.

Arthur Griffith, acting president of the "Irish republic" has now granted permission to see visitors for the first time since his arrest. He is held in Dublin.

London, December 22.—The Central News in a dispatch from Dublin should Eamon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," arrive in Ireland no attempt will be made to arrest him. The statement is attributed to officials in Dublin.

The dispatch adds that conversations regarding possible peace in Ireland continue and that new developments in the situation are expected.

Macon, Ga., December 22.—(Special).—At the weekly meeting of the Macon Rotary club today a fund of almost $500 was raised for the Salvation Army to be used in providing Christmas cheer for the poor of Macon. Santa Claus will not fail to visit a single needy child in Macon this Christmas.

The 439 children whose names were collected as those who would probably be forgotten, have either been taken under the personal care of a Good Fellow, or cash funds have been provided to pay for baskets of good things to be sent.

HARDING REVIEWS CABINET TIMBER

May Announce Most Important Selections in Near Future—Southern Democrat Considered for One Place.

Marion, Ohio, December 22.—Although many important decisions remain to be made, it became known tonight that President-elect Harding's series of conferences here have brought him much nearer the solution of the big problems of his administration. A world peace plan based on the united moral influence of the great powers is taking more or less concrete form in his mind as he gathers advice on the subject from every viewpoint. Available material for the cabinet has been sorted painstakingly, and although no appointments have been offered, the field of possibilities has been narrowed sharply. Definite announcement of selections for two or three of the most important portfolios might be made early in the new year.

To Rebuild Machinery.
On the problem of reorganizing the elaborate executive machinery at Washington, the plans of the president-elect are less complete, but he at least has gathered much information and advice, and has settled upon a central scheme of procedure. He proposed to build his cabinet from the very beginning about the idea of a readjusted jurisdiction among the respective executive departments. These are the outstanding accomplishments of the deliberations about Mr. Harding's council board here, but the discussions also have developed many policies of lesser prominence. He is keeping an ear to the ground for information on the labor situation and on financial conditions. He has inquired into the question of agricultural relief and has sought for the real story of the nation's military and naval status.

Possible Secretaries.
From the first, the question of the more important cabinet selections has been bound up with the world peace program and Mr. Harding has weighed the qualifications of possible secretaries of state with particular concern. Charles Evans Hughes and Senator Philander Knox are understood to be among those who are figuring conspicuously in these considerations. David Janney and Elihu Root, another former secretary, also have been mentioned many times in gossip as possible selections.

Some of the president-elect's intimate friends believe that to relieve the public mind of some of its present uncertainty he may announce his appointments to the state and treasury departments within the next few weeks, and then build the remainder of the cabinet upon them.

Tonight Mr. Harding repeated that no cabinet position had been offered to anyone, and it was indicated that at least another week would elapse before any decision was made. Even the post of secretary to the president is said to be still unassigned, although the general expectation has been that he would keep George B. Christian, Jr., his present secretary.

May Name Southerner.
The advisability of selecting a member of the cabinet from the south is known to have been under consideration by Mr. Harding, and there are some among his advisers who have urged the selection of a democrat to a place in his official family. It was learned tonight that one or two men are high on the list of available names whose names have been publicly discussed for cabinet positions.

effort to have a substantial increase made for the general budget of the police department.

Dewey Hunter, a young negro with an old police reputation, and James Jackson, alias John A. Nolan, another negro, were arrested in a Decatur street restaurant Wednesday night about 8 o'clock and are held on a general charge of suspicion of being members of the band of highwaymen that robbed and killed Carl Rappold, Pittsburg section merchant, Tuesday night.

The negroes were arrested by Detectives Lieutenant Waggoner and Armstrong. As the lieutenant entered the restaurant, Hunter spied him and immediately made a movement toward his hip pocket. Before he could draw, however, he was covered by two pistols whipped out from his overcoat pocket by Detective Armstrong. The negro submitted to arrest and a revolver was found on him, which police believe is the weapon with which he killed Rappold. The police state that the bullet will be extracted from the dead merchant's head and compared with those found in the chambers of Hunter's revolver.

Carl Rappold, the victim of the hold-up, will be buried this morning at 10:30 o'clock from St. Anthony's church. Rev. Father Jackson will officiate, and interment will be in West View with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge.

Negro Is Slain.
William Henry Clemons, negro, of 29 Gumby street, was shot and killed at 7:10 o'clock Wednesday night as he drew a knife on Police-men Evans and Bentley after they had ordered him to halt on the Edgewood avenue bridge.

The negro was carrying a satchel, apparently heavy, and the police-men suspected liquor. They commanded him to stop, but he came toward them, drawing a knife and another weapon they believed to be a pistol. Patrolman Evans fired, the bullet piercing the negro's abdomen. He died shortly afterwards at Grady hospital. The weapon in his hand proved to be a pair of barber shears.

J. P. Rountree, grocer, of 166 Elizabeth street, reported that early Wednesday night two white men entered his store, presented pistols and robbed his cash register of $21.55 and took some merchandise. He describes one of the robbers as being about six feet tall and well-dressed, while the other as being short and poorly clad.

A Mrs. Lucas, of 15 Elmwood avenue, reported that she sent her cook to a neighborhood grocery with $2 in a purse. On the way to the grocery the purse was snatched by a negro, who fled.

Harrison Robbed.
W. A. Harrison, a citizen of Forest park, reported to the police late Wednesday night that he was tacked in a taxicab on the Cascade road at 10:15 o'clock and robbed of $7. Harrison stated that he hired a taxicab, and after the machine had reached a point several miles from the city the driver stopped the machine, and he and two other unknown men who were on the driver's seat entered the taxicab, assaulted him and relieved him of $7. His wounds, which are not considered serious, were treated at Grady hospital shortly before midnight.

A 5-passenger automobile, belonging to R. E. Mitchell, was Wednesday stolen from a point on Auburn avenue near Ivy street, according to a report made to detective headquarters by the owner.

Howell Held Up.
Y. R. Howell, of 45 East Baker street, was held up on Carnegie way at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, by two men who overtook him in an automobile and halted him with drawn pistols. Only a small amount, however, was in his possession. A description of the men was furnished the police.

Man Is Wounded.
Henry Chapman, shot and slightly wounded in the leg by Patrolman Tiffin early Wednesday morning, after receiving medical treatment at Grady hospital, was charged with suspicion. It is thought Chapman was implicated in the burglary of a store at Hunter and Fraser streets just before midnight. Three negroes were caught in the act of robbing the place by Patrolmen Andrews and Satterfield. H. A. Terrell and Will Barnett were captured. The third, believed to have been Chapman, escaped. Chapman attempted to flee when the officers approached him, and was shot.

The store of Charles Bombas was entered by burglars early Wednesday morning and approximately 45,000 cigarettes and about 250 cigars were taken.

MAYOR KEY ANNOUNCES 1921 SCHOOL PROGRAM

$2,000,000 in Building and Improvement Projects to Be Recommended.

Mayor Key's school building program for 1921, contingent on the levy by city council of an emergency tax of one-half of 1 per cent, was outlined by him Wednesday.

The improvements, which will cost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000, and which he will recommend next year as absolutely necessary, he announced as follows:

A new Tech high school; a new school in the Englewood avenue section; repainting and repair of the Battle Hill school; erection of an annex to the Lucile Avenue school; a new school in the Capital Avenue section; to replace the Fraser Street school, which will be turned over to negroes in the vicinity; repair of the Davis Street school; an additional story at the Meadow-Goldsmith school; turning over of the Boulevard school to negroes, and erection of a new school in the Virginia-Highland avenue district; a school to replace the Fair Street school; sale of the Ivy Street school property; repair of the Williams Street school; building of a new unit in Calhoun Street school; and erection of a new negro school at the location of the Pittsburgh school.

As a secondary schedule for 1922 the mayor advocates the following new schools:

Girls' High, Faith, Stewart Avenue, Greenwood and Battle Hill. The needs of the school system were compiled by the mayor following an inspection and survey covering several days, in which he was accompanied by W. W. Gaines, Carl Hutcheson and W. M. McCallister, Jr., incoming members of the board of education.

POOLE TO RESIGN AS CITY ENGINEER UPON FEBRUARY 1

Cecil P. Poole, city mechanical engineer for the past seven years, announced Wednesday that he will resign, effective February 1, and will return to Norfolk, Va., his former home, to open an office as consulting engineer.

Mr. Poole was tendered the position of city mechanical engineer upon the resignation of Mr. J. L. Tucker, who has become, under his supervision, one of the most important departments of the city. Mr. Poole, among his duties is that of mechanic inspector, and through his efforts the smoke nuisance in Atlanta has been materially abated. He analyzes for quality many commodities purchased by the city, such as coal, oil, kerosene, lubricating oils, gasoline and kerosene.

In addition to his attainments as an engineer, Mr. Poole is an accomplished musician, and has been organist and choirmaster of St. Luke's Episcopal church for seven years. Recently he has taken a leading part in the organization of the Atlanta Opera club, which is preparing to put on a series of grand opera performances.

Mr. Poole is a graduate of Cornell University, and ranks among the leading engineers of the country. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and member and fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

3,600 Service Men In This District Get Federal Help

Veterans Bearing Traces of Wear and Tear of Warfare Perfecting
Selves in Vocational Training Schools.

Christmas shopping and Christmas worries and joys are prone to crowd from one's mind thoughts of figures—except the figures on the Christmas shopping list—but there is one set of figures which has just been announced by the government which holds interest for all.

Scattered throughout the five states of Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, North and South Carolina the government has 3,600 men who are preparing themselves for a bigger and better place in the world's affairs. These men all bear some trace of the wear and tear of modern warfare. They are the disabled ex-service men which the south sent forth to the war, and with the assistance of the government are now in business houses, schools and other places of learning working for perfection in their chosen trade or profession.

The channel through which these men are receiving the help of the government is the federal board for vocational education, which has its headquarters for the fifth district, through the Atlanta office every day. The board is the first application made by the ex-soldier to the actual handling of the compensation checks go through this office.

And now for the figures: Georgia alone receives $1,173,000 for the men and institutions which they are attending.

Not one cent of this amount is expended for salaries for any one official who receives $1,850,000 higher, all of it going directly into the education and training of the men.

With 3,600 men in training in this district, a resume of the number of trades, professions and vocations which the men are studying show a list of 115. These range from dentist assistant to plumber, from mechanics to medicine.

Thousands of Applications. The office in Atlanta has handled thousands of applications which have come in unsolicited, and also other thousands which they have uncovered. Field representatives are constantly in the field working with the various organizations which are in touch with the disabled men in their sections, and every effort has been made to acquaint the men who formerly were khaki and blue with the opportunities which have been prepared for them.

Some figures mean one thing and some another, but to even the most casual reader these figures mean the prospect of great futures for the 3,600 men now in training, and for Georgia a better educated and more progressive citizenship.

BLACK HEADS RELIEF FOR STARVING TOTS

Acceptance of Post Gratifies
the State Executive Body.

Eugene R. Black, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and one of the city's foremost civic leaders, Wednesday accepted the chairmanship of the Atlanta committee in the campaign for the relief of the starving children of Europe. The state executive committee, which is in general charge of organization of local committees throughout the state, was much gratified by Mr. Black's acceptance of responsibility for the Atlanta and of the campaign.

As business manager of the southern division of the American Red Cross during the intense activity of the war, Mr. Black achieved such a brilliant success as to attract attention all over the country. His administration this year as president of the chamber of commerce in the history of that organization, Mr. Black's acceptance of the chairmanship of the Atlanta committee in the campaign for the relief of the European children is regarded as a guarantee of success.

Associated with Mr. Black will be an Atlanta committee composed of one of the city's most successful businessmen, Dr. David Marx, W. W. Orr, Armand Hirsch, Joseph C. Logan, Victor H. Kriegshaber and John B. McCallum.

Plans for conducting the campaign in Atlanta will be formulated at one of the Atlanta committee meetings, all of whom are confident that people of this city will respond to the appeal for relief of the European children with generosity and public spirit.

The campaign over Georgia is progressing well. It was stated Wednesday by E. Marvin Underwood, state chairman, that a number of the leading committees.

No arrests have been made in connection with an alleged embezzlement of $2,000 from the Atlanta Mutual Insurance company, a negro concern, since the release Tuesday night of J. C. Lindsay, of 132 Auburn avenue, wealthy Atlanta negro, arrested from dentist assistant to plumber, charged with embezzlement of the company's funds. Lindsay is manager of the insurance company, which organization owned and controlled almost entirely by negroes.

A thorough investigation of the alleged deficit, however, said to have been revealed by an audit, will be made. The negro was arrested on a warrant sworn out by W. W. Chambliss, one of the company's agents. A. F. Herndon, negro barber shop owner, is president of the company.

Mr. Carroll Latimer, attorney for the insurance company, states that the arrest of Lindsay will follow a completion of investigations, which are still in progress.

KEY TO APPOINT SEAWRIGHT HEAD OF FINANCE BODY

Speculation as to whom Mayor Key will appoint as chairman of the 1921 finance committee of council was set at rest Wednesday, when the mayor admitted the correctness of rumors prevalent for some time that Alderman J. R. Seawright, of the first ward, will be named to fill this important post.

Special interest is always manifested by council members and others in the selection of the finance committee, particularly by its chairman, and since Councilman A. J. Orme, chairman for the past two years, goes out of council on January 1, prognostications have been rife concerning his probable successor.

For eight years Mr. Seawright has represented the first ward as alderman, and has been one of the most constructive and progressive members of the general council. He has been a member of many more and has also acted as chairman of the board of firemasters. This year he is chairman of the sanitary affairs of the board of health. Ever since his first term in council he has been a member of the finance committee, being appointed from year to year, and has extensive knowledge of the city's financial affairs.

THREE GIRLS ROUT NEGROES WORKING AT WHISKY STILL

Concord, Ga., December 22.—(Special.)—While hunting mistletoe on their father's plantation on Flint river yesterday Misses May, Grace and Dolly Cochran, of Concord, spotted a negro with a load of dead limbs on his back. They watched him for a moment and when he saw them he dropped the wood and ran. This action aroused the girls' curiosity, and they followed him into the woods they found a complete still with two more negroes near it. These two negroes also ran and disappeared in the woods.

Notwithstanding the fact that none of the girls are yet out of their teens, they showed the courage of a Scotch-Irish ancestry by tearing up the still, dropping the copper worm into a nearby well and pouring out a large quantity of beer ready to be fired. They then took the still and carried it to a farmhouse nearby and notified the sheriff, who finished the destruction.

The entire county is today singing the praises of the girls who showed such remarkable courage.

POWER COMPANY CRITICISES MOVE BY CITY COUNCIL

A statement issued yesterday by the Georgia Railway and Power company takes exception to the procedure employed by city council in its meeting Monday night on the subject of the proposed rate increase for gas service. The company takes the stand that council acted against it without giving the company opportunity to be heard. It also points to what it believes was an improper use of the speed with which the council disposed of an important subject.

The statement follows: "A report published from an official source tonight depicts Monday as the first time the public had of a sudden movement in certain quarters to attack through the city council this company's efforts to obtain what it believes is a fair gas rate," says the company's statement. "This report was published a few hours before the council was to meet Monday afternoon."

"It expressed the intention of the city's chief executive to formally request the council to fight this company's rate appeal before the railroad commission. On the face of the evidence it is apparent that the chief executive undertook this to construct a detailed and lengthy argument without having both sides of the gas question, and it was apparent that this was the only side he wished considered by the council."

"The intention on the part of its originator was revealed just a few days ago, and there was a conspicuous absence of any invitation to this company to present its affirmative arguments that support its side of the case."

"What is the usual, well-ordered method of procedure in the city council or in any other body? It is to hear both sides of the case. The well-ordered method requires the statement always of both sides of a question, and then a deliberation and decision with clarity and fairness to decide definite action for or against any given proposition, without having both sides of the case?"

"The pending appeal of the Georgia Railway and Power company for an increase in its gas service rates is supported by a tremendous foundation of fact and argument, and it is only natural that it should be so. The most energetic opponents of the proposal must admit that the company must have an opportunity to say something in its own defense, and the most vigorous opponents of the company must have an opportunity to say something in its defense, and the most vigorous opponents of the company must have an opportunity to say something in its defense."

"The Georgia Railway and Power company wants only one thing: The right to be heard, to be studied and then judged. It seeks justice only in the matter of rates."

Missing Balloon May Spell Death Of Entire Crew

Naval Craft A-5598, Lost Nine Days Ago, Thought to Have Landed in Adirondacks, Three Men Aboard Freezing.

Rockaway, N. Y., December 22.—For the first time since the disappearance of the naval balloon A-5598, nine days ago, officers at the Rockaway naval air station here expressed the opinion tonight that the three occupants of the missing craft are dead in the wilds of the Adirondacks. The same opinion prevails at Mitchell field, Long Island, among the army officers, who have taken up the search for the ill-fated balloon.

During the first few days of the craft's disappearance, officers at the Rockaway station were confident that the men had landed in the Adirondacks, and as soon as they could work their way to a telegraph station, the mystery of the craft would be solved. This hope held out for the aeronauts has given away to the belief that they have frozen to death in some unexplored section of the mountainous area within a radius of approximately 80 miles from Glens Falls.

Officers at the Rockaway naval air station pointed out tonight that the balloon landed uninjured in the thickly wooded section of the Adirondacks, where a strong probability they succumbed to the bitter weather of the past few days, in view of the fact that the balloon was poorly provisioned with food, and there were no firearms in the equipment carried with which to bring down wild game for food.

Brickell last July, following a raid on the steamer by prohibition officers which, they claim, netted a bottle partially filled with liquor and a number of bottles of beer.

Georgian Whites Inter-state Commerce Commission, Seeking Reduction in Freight and Passenger Rates on Railroads.

Washington, December 22.—(Special.)—A reduction of freight and passenger rates is urged upon the interstate commerce commission by the Georgian whites, who are not carrying an average maximum of freight and passengers since the increase in rates. Of course, the commission doubtless has figures on this question which throws more light than I can by general observations.

It has been brought to my attention by many people in Georgia and those whom I have seen here, that the present high passenger and freight rates are doing more to decrease the amount of income received by the railroads than if a lower rate was in effect, which would cause more freight to move and more people to travel. In other words, the railroads are not carrying an average maximum of freight and passengers since the increase in rates. Of course, the commission doubtless has figures on this question which throws more light than I can by general observations.

THE BIG ARMY OF LITTLE RED CORPUSCLES

Plenty of Red Blood Is the Surest Foundation of Bounding Good Health

GOOD BLOOD CONQUERS DISEASE

Pepto-Mangan Purifies the Blood and Fills It With Red Corpuscles

Scientists like to compare the red corpuscles in the blood to an army. The red corpuscles are disc-shaped, smooth cells which swim in the blood in large numbers. They take up and carry away impurities from all parts of the body. When disease germs enter your body (and millions do every day) it is the red corpuscles that attack and destroy them.

If your blood is weak and sluggish and loaded with poisons, the disease germs are able to multiply quickly. That is when you are pale and what you call "run down."

That is when you need to take that great tonic, Pepto-Mangan. It contains the ingredients your blood needs to build it up and increase the number of red corpuscles.

Pepto-Mangan is for sale at your druggists, and in both liquid and tablet form. They have exactly the same ingredients. Take whichever you prefer. But to make sure you get the genuine, ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" and see that the name "Gude's" is on the package—

COST-REDUCING IDEAS REJECTED, IS CHARGE

Probers Hear of Efforts to Prevent Use of Cheaper Plumbing Methods.

New York, December 22.—Attempts of soil pipe manufacturers of the country to prevent the use of innovation in the plumbing business that would reduce the cost of building were revealed today in testimony and letters put in evidence before the joint legislative committee investigating the "building trust."

Testimony was given purporting to show that in some instances the manufacturers were supported by the Master Plumbers' associations and the Journeymen Plumbers' association.

The committee took up its investigation of the Eastern Soil Pipe Manufacturers' association and the Southern Soil Pipe association today after getting a promise from Secretary Margraff, of the Metal Ceiling association, that the organization would "mend its ways" and eliminate "unfair and despotic regulations" in its by-laws.

Price of Pipe.
Charles F. Tuttle, secretary of the Eastern Manufacturers testified to the association's activities. While denying that the soil pipe manufacturers had a system of price fixing, Tuttle admitted they had a method of notifying each other of a change of price by another member.

"Yes, and the Central Foundry company set the pace," asserted Samuel Untermyer, the committee counsel, adding that every time the company changed the price of pipe, all the other association members did likewise.

Tuttle's declaration that the price changing lists had been discontinued last April was characterized as a "fake" by the committee's counsel, who declared the soil pipe prices continued uniform throughout the country.

Documentary Evidence.
Southern and eastern manufacturers, Tuttle admitted, had met in Atlantic City last September and discussed the matter of distributing price changing lists. Scores of letters and other documents were placed in evidence by Mr. Untermyer in an effort to show a campaign of the easterners in conjunction with the southern manufacturers to prevent the use of medium or standard pipe. The documents included notices of cast iron pipe.

While the stand, Tuttle also was questioned as to the activities of the American Institute of Lead Manufacturers, of which the National Lead company is a principal member. He was asked to produce tomorrow figures showing the output and estimated value of the products of the five concerns in this organization.

Hundreds of Babies Are Sold Each Year In Utah, Says Judge

Salt Lake City, Utah, December 22.—Declaring that hundreds of babies are being literally sold in Salt Lake every year, Judge Hugo B. Anderson, of the local juvenile court, in his biennial report to the governor, recommended that legislation be introduced to prevent the continuance of the traffic.

He condemns the adoption proceedings as at present carried out in the courts, stating that they are handled informally and decrees entered as a matter of course, the courts having no means whereby to make investigations.

Ask That Navy's Radio Stations Be Commercialized

Washington, December 22.—Legislation to permit the navy department to make contracts for transmission of press matter at rates to be approved by the interstate commerce commission, was advocated today before the senate commerce committee by Representative Britten, republican, Illinois, author of such a bill, and various press representatives. The question was one of service, not of rates, Mr. Britten said, adding:

"If the newspapers could get the service they want from private concerns they would not be here."

Joseph M. Patterson, of the Chicago Tribune, said the newspapers did not want a government monopoly, but opposed the present system, by which the secretary of commerce could when radio service was to be interrupted. The bill would place the matter entirely in the navy's hands.

Decided opposition developed in the committee to the Britten measure, and consideration was put over until after the holidays.

C., early this morning, according to advices received here by friends. Mr. Herndon was about 57 years of age, and for a long period was pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

MANGET MAKES GENEROUS OFFER

keep close to a steaming radiator. There are fireplaces in the homes of the neediest families, but there is little wood and less coal to burn in them, and these people hardly know a radiator by sight. Christmas shoppers had been driven from the streets, but the members of these families had to brave the weather, for they must work to earn the pittances that keep life's spark burning and what small hope is there of a bright ray of hope.

There was a great deal more than a ray of hope, though, in Mr. Will's letter. Its very simplicity was eloquence itself in expressing the wealth of feeling he has for those who are in want at this season of the year.

It was addressed to the Publisher of The Constitution and it read:

"I take pleasure in handing you herewith my check for $500 in aid of your Christmas charity fund. Kindly use this where it will do the most good. Yours very truly,

F. WILLIS."

In the same mail with Mr. Willis' contribution came a check for $10 from the Rev. W. F. Seay, pastor of the West End Baptist church, who opposed the Howard theater concert. Mr. Seay wrote:

"I enclosed check for $10 for Associated Charities, from one who belongs to the so-called Puritanical crowd, and whose heart and hand are open liberally to help needy humanity."

"The taint of Puritanism is a familiar one used by the apostles of liberalism against those who disagree with them, and for sinister interpretation of the sanctions of religion and law. Puritanism and true liberality are by no means antithetical. The former looks toward the safeguarding of law and the upholding of the moral welfare of the community. The latter is a crown of glory to anyone who wears it. It protects equally against the Jesuitical rule of doing evil that good may come of it, and any camouflage of good out of which evil is certain to ultimately grow."

"The Puritans were not perfect men, but they were honest, sincere and God-fearing. The stout protagonists of liberalism would hardly claim more than that for themselves on their honor bright."

These Puritans, the honored pilgrim fathers, in the cabin of the Mayflower before they trod the soil of this continent, where they laid the foundation for the present stability of the land of the free and the home of the brave, drew up a declaration of principles whose beginning was in the name of God, amen. One of those principles had to do with reverence for the holy Sabbath. We who enjoy the blessings of their labors, prayers and high ideals for the nation had better, in the name of God, amen, thank them, that we use their honored name as a byword and a hissing.

"No one can deny that as to the day of God there never was so determined an effort to break down every safeguard that has hitherto hedged it about as a day of rest and religious worship. With wide-open theaters on Sunday and a 'merry-go-round' of ungodly amusements, the Sabbath soon become nothing but a melancholy memory. If ultimately the whole Puritanical extreme Sunday observance structure will tumble like a house of cards, there are millions of Americans who would like to tumble with it—or not, as the case may be. If it does tumble, one thing is certain, the observance found in Atlanta will rise again at the hands of the countless thousands in America protesting in righteous indignation against the license on the Sabbath now prevailing in the north, and which has almost swept the holy character of the Sabbath from the weekly calendar. If our position be extreme, the other is certainly no cure for it. It is now time for Puritans to speak, and in no uncertain terms."

Fort McPherson Fund.
More than $100 of the amount raised Wednesday came from the contribution of the ladies at Fort McPherson, wives of the officers, and others who have heard the appeal of the Associated Charities for these families.

While grateful to the people for the response which has already been made, the workers of this organization are anxious that the full amount for all the opportunities be raised since they have seen the necessity felt by the families and know the full value of the small sum which a full response will add to the meager incomes of those involved.

Names and subscriptions of those who have responded, with the amount still needed, follow:

Denounces Sunday Movies.
A card was received by The Constitution Wednesday from W. M. Heston, president of the Edgewood Progressive club, denouncing Sunday pictures. In his card he says:

"I am an optimist on all subjects. But a little pessimism is indispensable in order that we may call into service our common sense. It is amusing, to say the least of it, to observe how the representatives of the moving picture interests prate about charity, and their profound desire to aid eleemosynary institutions whenever the subject of opening the movies on Sunday is up for discussion."

"The idea of opening the picture shows on Sunday should stand on its own intrinsic merits. And should not seek a partnership with charity for operating on Sunday, any more than Monday."

"If these movies were allowed to open on Sunday, the first logical consequence that would materialize would be direct competition between the movies and the churches. Fifty per cent of the picture shown by the movies in the city of Atlanta should be prohibited on the grounds of being rather than conducive to the moral and religious uplift of our city."

"The proposal to have free movies under the guise of Sunday afternoon concerts is the artifice of camouflaging of the entering wedge which will result pretty soon in the wholesale operation of the movie picture shows on Sundays."

Here are the opportunities:

Opportunity No. 1.
Four little children, all under 9, and an invalid sister require all of this mother's time. The father died of tuberculosis two years ago, leaving a fear of the disease and a financial burden on the mother's shoulders. She now has no income, and were it not for the help of a friend whom the Associated Charities has found for her she would have no shelter. She is struggling along trying to keep the two oldest children in school.

Fifteen dollars a week during the month of January will relieve her mind from financial strain and enable her to care for her sister and little children. Total needed, $720.

No. 2 Closed.
Opportunity No. 3.

A dear old lady and her aged brother live in a tumble-down house which is almost tenement. The sister, who is 75 years old, sews quilts, which find a ready sale, but with all her sewing she cannot earn enough to make her feeble brother comfortable.

A gift of $5 a week will give them the food and many little things they need and will relieve the sister from financial anxiety. Total, $240.

Opportunity No. 4.
It isn't easy to come home after a day in the factory, go to her mother's for the five children, cook the children's supper and wash the clothing for school next day, besides working to make the home immaculately clean. Mrs. M. has been doing this without complaint, for she is ambitious for her youngsters, but the strain is telling on her. Recently friends of the Associated Charities have agreed to supplement her meager wage with $1.25 a week.

Another $5 a week will help feed and clothe the five little ones. Total, $240.

Opportunity No. 5.
"Six months before she can work again," says the doctor who is treating her.

Six months is a long time when a woman is dependent on her own earnings. All of her teeth abscessed, swollen ankles and almost stone dead—but she is cheerful and is responding to medical treatment. To speed her recovery a diet of milk visits of the renting agent must be met.

Four dollars and seventy-five cents a week will make her comfortable and enable her to regain her lost strength. Total, $230.

Opportunity No. 6.
A mother who is mentally unbalanced—unreasonable and overbearing—is for this reason unable to make a home for her 12-year-old kiddie. On the other hand, the kiddie is bright and wants a chance to go to school.

Three dollars and seventy-five cents a week will enable Associated Charities to place her in a good school where she can start her education while the mother is receiving medical treatment. Needed, $180.

Opportunity No. 7.
Thirteen-year-old Jessie's father works the hardest every day. But a wife who has had pella for two years, and four little girls, all of them under-nourished, need more than his maximum earnings.

Jessie comes home from school and cleans the house. She was doing until our visitor found some one to do it for her. The doctors now advise a nourishing diet for mother and all four children in order to prevent tuberculosis.

Three dollars and seventy-five cents a week extra will make this possible. Total for the year, $180.

Opportunity No. 8.
Three husky boys, 12-10-8, an invalid father and aged grandmother keep this mother's fingers working busily every day. It only she can keep things going a few years, she says, her boys will have their education and that's the brightest hope in her life.

In the meantime the little mother's brave struggle is too much for her strength. The house rent falls due so regularly and food and clothing are almost beyond her reach. Six dollars more each week will give the boys good food, will buy a few comforts for the old people and will relieve the mother's mind from strain. Needed, $290.

Opportunity No. 9.
To be hopelessly ill in the hospital and unable to care for his family of seven, seems hard to a man who has always made a splendid work record. He cannot even see the little crippled girl who has just learned to walk.

The oldest boy, not yet 15, has gone to work and continues his studies at night, but his wages, together with the help of relatives who are in straitened circumstances themselves, is insufficient. An additional $7 weekly will be needed to take care of the family. Total $336.

Opportunity No. 10.
Being the oldest of five has advantages and disadvantages. Upon John, 19, and Lucy, 16, falls the entire support of the family.

The frail mother remains at home getting the younger children off to school and always has the simple supper ready for John and Lucy when they get home from work.

Even with the combined wages of these two, however, there is not enough to cover all the expenses, and these two young people are getting discouraged.

Five dollars a week as a Christmas present will supplement their earnings and make them very happy. Who'll help? Total for the year, $260.

Total required for all opportunities, $2,890. Contributors will please make all gifts direct to the Associated Charities.

A smart event among the college set was the supper-dance given last night by Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. DeGivie for their pretty schoolgirl daughter, Pauline, when 150 guests were entertained.

The Christmas decoration throughout the house—palm and flowering plants, with the symbolic wreaths and garlands in the holiday red and green—made gay setting for the party. Dancing was interrupted at 11 o'clock for a delicious supper served at small tables in the living room and parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. Tye Give Dance For Debutante Daughters

A brilliant social event of last evening was the dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Tye, at their home on Peachtree street, introducing formally to society their lovely debutante daughters, Misses Ethel and Carolyn Tye. The receiving party, including Mr. and Mrs. Tye, the debutantes of the evening; Mr. and Mrs. John L. Tye, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Potts and Miss Myrtle Tye, of Washington, D. C., received their guests in the drawing room, which had been converted into a crystal palace, the bowers of smilax, showered with silver tipped snow, forming a most attractive setting and background of green and white.

Mrs. Tye wore a handsome gown of black Chantilly lace, veiling black satin.

Beautiful Debutantes.
Miss Ethel Tye was gowned in white Chantilly lace, fashioned over cloth of silver, and Miss Carolyn Tye's gown was of silver lace, draped over white tulle. They both carried shower bouquets of Columbia roses, tied with silver ribbon, the color of the roses enhancing the exquisite effect of their costumes. These two attractive girls are already belles in society, and have but recently finished school at National cathedral in Washington, D. C., and Barnard college in New York.

Mrs. Potts wore black lace over silver, and her flowers were orchids. Mrs. John Tye, Jr., wore green satin, trimmed with silver ribbon and pink roses. Miss Myrtle Tye wore a gown of white and pink roses.

The festive of the holiday season had delightful expression last night in the dinner-dance at the Capital City club, which assembled several hundred guests.

There was elaborate decoration in the Christmas foliage and in flowering plants. Smilax formed a frieze in ballroom and salon, and red roses were caught in the festoons of green. Holly, and cedar wreaths added their symbolic suggestion, and the tables, which encircled the ballroom and filled the salon had each its artistic decoration, a growing begonia the centerpiece.

Among those entertaining were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Daniel, whose party was a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ragan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Spalding completed the party.

Mrs. Glen Ryman and Mrs. Leann Etheridge served here, while Mrs. Jacob Patterson and Mrs. M. C. Satterlee served coffee from two handsome silver urns, which are family heirlooms.

Throughout the house poinsettia plants, spice berries, holly, mistletoe and Christmas bells were used to decorate. Pedestal baskets and vases of holly, mistletoe and poinsettia blossoms gave a festive note to the background of ferns and palms. An orchestra furnished the dance music from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Miss Poole, Hostess

Miss Frances Poole's tea yesterday afternoon was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the holiday season.

The attractive hostess graciously received her guests in the music room, assisted by her mother, Mrs. L. O. Poole, Sr. and sister, Mrs. L. O. Poole, Jr. The rooms of the lower floor of the spacious home were thrown together and was profusely decorated for the occasion with palms, red roses and the usual Christmas suggestions.

In the living room and music room amaranth and ivy garlanded arched doorways, holly and mistletoe were used lavishly and bright, red poinsettias all emphasized the gladness of the Christmas season.

One stepped into a bit of Japan going into the solarium, where the hanging baskets were filled with trailing vines and bright flowers. Its pendant Japanese lamps and its miniature Japanese tea garden arranged on a table in the center of the room.

The large punch bowl placed on a table under the profusion of hangings was embroidered in richly tinted fruits, coral grapes formed a circle around the outer edge of the bowl. Miss Julia Black and Miss Theodora Owens presided at the punch bowl.

The dining room with its massive colonial furniture and tea service of ancient pattern was unusually attractive. The large lace-covered table, elegant in its every appointment of silver and Christmas suggestions with streamers of red tulle suspended from the elaborate chandelier overhead to four silver baskets placed at intervals on the table holding red roses and the holly leaves with butterfly bows of tulle, had as a central decoration a silver candelabra holding red and white candles. Cups of tea were served from the beautifully appointed table. Miss Harriet Shedd and Miss Cordelia Shedd graced the service. Miss Katherine Whitfield Weds Mr. Edwin S. Delaplane

Montgomery, Ala., December 22.—(Special).—One of the most beautiful church weddings ever witnessed in the Court Street Methodist church was solemnized Wednesday evening when Miss Katherine Whitfield, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Broughton Whitfield, became the bride of Mr. Edwin S. Delaplane, formerly of St. Louis, Mo., now of Montgomery.

The Court Street church where the impressive ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock, was artistically decorated in a motif of green and white, carrying out the unique idea of a white wedding at the Christmas season.

Southern similes hangings gracefully entwined the altar rail and formed beautiful hangings from baskets and pedestals, while magnificent palms and ferns flanked the altar.

Gleaming tapers in cathedral candles, among the green, shed a soft glow upon the whole. Tall baskets filled with brides' roses alternated with baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The Christmas colors of red and green were carried out in all the details, the table having for a centerpiece a basket of glowing poinsettias and small crimson baskets holding red and green mints being placed at each corner.

A sewing contest was cleverly introduced, the prize being a pair of embroidery scissors, and the honor guest being presented with a decorated sewing set in red and green.

Besides the bride-elect the guests were: Miss Elizabeth Plumb, who will be maid of honor; Mrs. Howard Smith, who will be matron of honor; Miss Theodora Hicks and Miss Mildred Andoe, who will be bridesmaids; Miss Virginia Merkes, Mrs. Martha Susan Cheek, Miss Margaret Hillman, Miss Margaret Andoe, Mrs. H. At the same time the women of the church brought showers of good things for the party.

Adjustment Fund For Spring Street Matter Is Vetoed

A resolution passed Monday by council authorizing the expenditure of $1,000 for permanent readjustment of property on Spring street owned by Captain James W. English and affected by the Spring street paving work was vetoed Wednesday by Mayor Key, who ruled that all the city can do is to make temporary means of egress and ingress, and that permanent adjustments must be made by the property owners themselves.

The message follows: "I am returning without my approval resolution to appropriate $1,000 to make readjustment for property of Captain J. W. English on Spring street."

The readjustments that are anticipated under this resolution are permanent and expensive. This is the first plan of readjustment that has been submitted and will establish a precedent for the entire Spring street development. What is done in this case will have to be done in all cases, and to follow up this plan of readjustment in all cases will make the improvement so expensive to the city that it could not find the money to do the work and would defeat the project.

The improvements that are being made on Spring street are very large and expensive and the expense of being borne by the public. The benefits accruing are reflected in the values of every piece of property on the street, including the property in question. All the city can do is to make temporary means of egress and ingress and the permanent adjustments must be made by the property owners themselves.

The plan of adjustment that can be followed that will insure the success of the development. For these reasons I have disapproved the resolution.

Pete Herman Cast Off Throne by Decision; Big Crowd in Up roar

Madison Square Garden, New York, December 22.—Joe Lynch, the little boxer from the west side of Manhattan island, who jumped into prominence about three years ago as a likely boxer, won the bantamweight championship of the world from Pete Herman, of New Orleans, in a 15-round battle at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The men weighed in at 116, as called for in the articles of agreement, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, but the official weights announced by the state boxing commission when the men entered the ring to fight were 116 pounds for each.

Lynch looked the much more drawn of the two men when the bout began, while Herman was in the better condition and more alert. Herman was an odds-on favorite in what betting was indulged in, 3 to 1 being freely offered that he would retain his championship.

Both Boys Nervous.

Both boys were nervous at the outset. Lynch's advantage of height and reach soon were apparent, and excessive caution on the part of Herman cost him any chance he might have had to bring it off. In four of the rounds Herman had the better of the argument, but in only one of them had he any decided advantage over Lynch.

In this round he had Lynch in difficulty, but that was all. His defense at times was puzzling to the challenger, but whenever he landed one of his long lefts or right hooks or swings, a grin of satisfaction spread over Lynch's countenance, while Herman's face grew more and more as he was afraid of his opponent's wallop.

In the rounds where he had the better of Lynch, Herman took chances. When he did attack he was very successful, and his efforts were only a means to an end. Lynch was the aggressor in all the rest of the rounds. Lynch's outpunching his opponent, Herman had four and the opening session was just about even.

Lynch suffered from a cut lip early in the mill, but it was not until after the fight was over that it became known to those in the corner that the new champion had badly injured the thumb of his right hand during the third round. Lynch was stated as he was carried on the shoulders of his manager and handlers around the ring, while Herman went out through the ropes without making any audible comments.

Herman and his manager sail on the Imperator for England tomorrow at noon. The champion is expected to meet Jimmy Wilde, the little paper weight boxer and English champion, in a 15-round battle at London on January 14. So far as could be learned tonight, Herman's defeat will not alter his plans to stay in the ring and to fight and fulfill his English engagement.

Garden Is Packed.

While the Dempsey-Brennan bout brought an enormous crowd to the Garden last week, the interest evinced by the fans in the bantam championship fight was such that the biggest crowd the structure ever held. The house was sold out early this afternoon and the spectators were unable to get in the demands of the late comers. Both Herman and Lynch weighed in under the stipulated 116 pounds at 10 o'clock. Neither showed any ill effects from strenuous training and expressed no uneasiness about the outcome of the battle. Although Lynch had the advantage in height and reach, Herman was a 7 to 5 favorite in the betting.

In addition to the main event there were three 10-round bouts and one of six rounds on the card, all for the boys in the bantam division.

Professor William Muldoon and State Senator McCue were the judges selected by the state boxing commission. The curtain-raiser was a fast 6-round go between George Thompson, of San Diego, Cal., and Willie Spencer, of this city. Each lad weighed 118 3/4 pounds. The judges disagreed and Referee Louis White decided on Thompson as the winner.

Roy Moore, of St. Paul, 121 1/2 pounds, knocked out Jimmy Smith, of Brooklyn, 117 1/4 pounds, in the first round of the second bout, which was to have gone ten rounds. Martin substituted for Smith as the leader, of this city.

Johnnie Buff, of Jersey City, 114 pounds, cleverly outboxed Midget Smith, of Panama, in what proved to be the semi-final bout, as the other 10-round bout on the card was called off. Smith made his first appearance here in the Garden a couple of weeks ago and was knocked out in 21 seconds, but to night he was only flashy at times and the judges awarded the bout to Buff.

Lynch Enters First.

Lynch entered the ring for the main event a few seconds before 10 o'clock and took his place in the "lucky corner," from which he fought and defeated Young Sharkey in a short time in his first bout. Herman got into the ring.

After the principals and the referee, Patay Haley, had faced a battery of cameras, the ring was cleared for the championship battle. Herman wore white trunks with a black belt, and Lynch sea-green trunks, with a gold harp on the left side. They shook hands at 10:15.

O'BRIEN TO HELP IN PROSECUTION OF BALLPLAYERS

Chicago, December 22.—James O. "Ropes" O'Brien, former assistant state's attorney, will be engaged to assist in the prosecution of White Sox players and gamblers, who are charged with conspiring to "throw" the 1919 world's series and are now under indictment by the Cook county grand jury, it was announced today by President Johnson of the American league. Johnson said he expected early hearings in the cases.

During the last year, O'Brien, an assistant state's attorney, secured convictions which sent several men to the gallows. During murder trials he always wore a red necktie. "We must go the bottom of this affair," said Johnson, "and no guilty person must be allowed to escape. This is the only way why the American league is taking an interest in this matter. Mr. O'Brien has a notable record for convictions and that is why we have decided to employ him."

Round Six.—Most of Herman's leads were short, Lynch's right enabling him to land long lefts to the face and head. At close quarters, Herman planned left and right to the body and then Lynch landed four rights on the head and a left on the body without a return. In the boxing that ensued Herman proved to be the cleverer and had the round by more than a shade.

Round Ten.—Lynch jabbed left and swung his right to the head. In his corner, the new champion had badly injured the thumb of his right hand during the third round. Lynch was stated as he was carried on the shoulders of his manager and handlers around the ring, while Herman went out through the ropes without making any audible comments.

Round Eleven.—They sparred at long range for half a minute. Herman kept blocking Lynch's left jab and he kept blocking Herman's right. They exchanged left hooks to the face. Then Herman landed two lefts to the head and two rights to the body. Herman was beating Lynch to the punch and had the better of the round.

"PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER" WITH "BUGS" DAER

WOOD ALCOHOL AND QUININE GOING TO BE A SAD WINTER FOR THE BOYS WITH COLDS. Can you pipe the old family doctor prescribing wood alcohol and quinine?

ONE SWALLOW doesn't make a winter. When a man gets sick, he wants the old-fashioned remedies.

YOU CAN'T CURE A cold on the chest with Blue Laws. And the 18th amendment makes a poor poultice.

ALL THAT IS LEFT of the old rock-and-rye remedy is the rock. The old hot lemonade with a dash of paprika is one with Nineveh and Tyre. We still have the old 'tis, but none of the cures.

IF YOU WANT to take a hot mustard bath, you'd better do it quick before you pass another amendment. Remember when the old doc used to grab you by the wrist and look at your tongue? Then he did use to write out a ducat for so-and-so and quinine.

THE SO-AND-SO was great stuff and the quinine couldn't hurt you if you didn't take it. The only danger of that cure was in getting your blood back too quick. But what have they got to take the place of that cure today?

WOOD ALCOHOL, and quinine? Blizzards this winter are going to be closer than words in the dictionary. There's going to be a lot of wet feet and bad colds. If they don't want to cause a lot of suffering, they'd better turn back the amendments and give us yesterday.

WHEN YOU'VE got a feeling on your chest like you have swallowed a porcupine, when your eyes look like worm holes in an apple, when your pulse is at a feverish pace—don't want any Boy Scout remedies.

YOU WANT YOUR doctor to be the giant who lives in a bottle. So-and-so and quinine and wet in winter. Which would permit an old-fashioned GRANDMA USED the so-and-so and quinine cure on the entire family.

AND IT WAS very economical.

ONE QUININE PILL would last the entire winter.

Attention, please! The wahoo bird is going to be a big attraction at the Auditorium-Armory.

Listen, the wahoo-wahoo bird is telling who is going to fight. Who does he say? Well, he says that the main attraction, which is to be ten three-minute rounds, will be between two of the high school boys in the south. Well, who are they? Don't you know. Well, I will tell you. The first man that comes to my mind, and who is well known in the hearts of many fight fans all over the south, and who possesses a punch that is going to lay a 15-year-old in the shade, is none other than our friend Bill Barnhart. And, as we get to know a reliable source, Bill carries a wicked "rambunctious" punch in either paw, and if he ever gets into a fight, he will be a real opponent to the hay for a while.

Well, who is he going to fight? He is going to fight a fellow named Jim Thorpe for honors in the game of basketball. Jim is a real star, and he is well known in the hearts of many fight fans all over the south, and who possesses a punch that is going to lay a 15-year-old in the shade, is none other than our friend Bill Barnhart.
